POLICY STATEMENT

University of Minnesota Medical School (UMMS) students are expected to proceed through the curriculum in a continuous, uninterrupted fashion until graduation. In the event of circumstances which necessitate a temporary period of non-enrollment, a leave of absence (LOA) may be available.

REASON FOR POLICY

Circumstances may arise in which students may need/choose to interrupt their enrollment. Allowing an LOA provides students the ability to return to medical school without affecting their time to degree (see 'Related Information').

For students on an imposed LOA, it provides an opportunity for them to address academic, technical, or professional deficiencies that permit continuation in, and successful completion of, the medical education program without affecting their time to degree.

PROCEDURES

Students on, or about to take, an LOA are encouraged to speak with the Office of Financial Aid regarding any impact a Leave may have on their financial aid status or tuition refund eligibility.

I. Leave of Absence

Enrolled students may request an LOA from the relevant Dean on their respective campus: the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs on the Central Campus in the Twin Cities; Associate Dean for Student Life and Academic Affairs on the Regional Campus in Duluth (further references to the appropriate Dean in this document will use "Dean of Students"). Typical reasons for requesting such a leave include, but are not limited to:

- medical reasons
- financial reasons
- personal reasons
- educational enhancement reasons (including Flex MD)
- caretaker reasons (see below)

Conversely, a Leave of Absence may be imposed as a result of a scholastic standing committee outcome for students not meeting the academic, technical, or professional standards set by the UMMS. Information about the scholastic standing committees can be found in the Scholastic Standing Committees Policy (see 'Related Information').

General Procedures

1. Students requesting a LOA must submit a request in writing to the Dean of Students for review. Students may be required to meet with the Dean of Students to discuss their options. The relevant Dean of Students has authority to approve or deny the request. LOAs for Flex MD applicants will be handled through the Flex MD Committee.

2. Approved leaves will stipulate:
 - a. a time period for the leave
 - b. the date by which the student must formally notify the school confirming their return to active enrollment (typically no fewer than thirty days in advance of the LOA termination date)
 - c. any conditions to be met prior to, or subsequent to a return to active enrollment
3. The approval of an LOA does not negate other medical school policies related to course remediation or academic status and it does not negate previous/concurrent scholastic standing committee decisions.
4. Students who begin an LOA prior to the end date of current courses/clerkships should consult the Medical School Registration Policy (see 'Related Information') regarding the impact this may have on their grades and tuition charges.
5. An LOA is approved for up to one year. A student may request an extension of one additional year. Requests for an extension may require a documented reason for considering further extensions, and the additional consideration and approval of the relevant scholastic standing committee (COSSS or SSC) in addition to the Dean of Students. Flex MD participants may be approved for two years.
6. Students who do not return to the UMMS after being on an LOA, or those who do not provide written notification by the prescribed dates of their intention to return will be considered to be on an unapproved Leave and may be withdrawn or dismissed from the medical school in addition to being subject to other actions. These include academic holds, delayed reinstatement, and financial obligations.
7. The medical school reserves the right to require a student returning from an LOA to complete remedial work or demonstrate satisfactory academic competence where there are legitimate concerns about that student's current academic ability or for patient safety.

Leaves of Absence for Caretaker reasons:

Students who have or adopt a child may take an LOA before and/or after the child arrives. Depending on the length of the LOA, it may result in extension of the student's graduation date. Students requiring short-term, excused absences for caretaker needs (ie. caring for a sick child) should instead refer to the Attendance Requirements and Excused Absences policy for guidance.

II. Withdrawal

Although there may be a variety of legitimate reasons a student may consider withdrawing from medical school, such a decision can have significant consequences on a student's future and should be considered carefully.

As such, students contemplating withdrawal for any reason should consult the Dean of Students prior to making such a decision. Students are also strongly encouraged to seek assistance from their advisors, the Student Counseling Services, or other support systems prior to considering withdrawal.

Students wishing to permanently end enrollment in the UMMS must notify the Dean of Students, in writing, their intention to withdraw and their expected, official withdrawal date.

Students whose withdrawal date begins prior to the end date of any courses/clerkships in which they are currently enrolled should consult the Medical School Registration Policy (see 'Related Information') regarding the impact this may have on their grades, tuition charges, and other University benefits. The withdrawal may also be reviewed by the relevant scholastic standing committee (COSSS-TC or SSC-DU).

A student's current academic standing and any remediation requirements will remain in effect at the time of withdrawal and be noted in the student's academic file; these may inform decisions regarding requests for reinstatement (See Reinstatement from Withdrawal Policy).

III. Appeals

Students who wish to appeal any determination regarding an LOA or withdrawal decision will be subject to the appeals process outlined in the Scholastic Standing Committee policy.

DEFINITIONS

Leave of Absence (LOA)

An LOA from the medical school converts the student's status to "Inactive." The student is no longer considered enrolled during the approved duration of the LOA, but is expected to return to medical school. The student may still be subject to financial obligations (i.e. loan repayments, outstanding charges to the medical school) depending on the length of the LOA. As per University of Minnesota Policy, any student absent from courses for one full semester is automatically considered to be on a Leave of Absence.

Withdrawal

A withdrawal from the UMMS converts the student's status to 'Discontinued.' The student is no longer considered enrolled with no intention to return to the medical school, is subject to all financial obligations (i.e. loan repayments, outstanding charges to the medical school), and may not have access to University facilities. Withdrawn students who subsequently wish to consider returning to the medical school will be subject to the Reinstatement from Withdrawal Policy.

Dismissal

A dismissal is an involuntary withdrawal from the medical school, typically as an outcome of a scholastic standing committee or as a result of a violation of University or UMMS conduct policies.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Dean of Students (Twin Cities and Duluth)

The Dean of Students is responsible for review and approval of Leaves of Absence, approval to return to medical school from a LOA, and coordination between the relevant scholastic standing committee and students placed on imposed Leaves of Absence.

Scholastic Standing Committees (COSS/SSC)

The Scholastic Standing Committees have the authority to impose an LOA as a consequence of academic performance issues in accordance with school policies and scholastic standing committee procedures.

Flexible MD Oversight Committee

The Flexible MD Oversight Committee is responsible for reviewing and approving/denying a student's request to take an elective LOA.

Students

Medical students are responsible for notifying the appropriate school official regarding requests for a Leave of Absence, requests for LOA extensions, the intention to return from an LOA, and for adhering to all conditions or requirements of an LOA. Medical students are also responsible for any impact an LOA may have on their financial aid status.
